Judge Sends Blonde's Case To Hamilton County Grand Jury

CINCINNATI (AP) — Municipal Court Judge Clarence Denning today ordered Mrs. Edythe Klumpp held to the Hamilton County Grand Jury without bond on a murder charge.

The grand jury is in constant session in Hamilton County. An aide in the prosecutor's office said the Klumpp case could be taken up when the investigation is completed and when a place could be found for it on the docket.

Mrs. Klumpp, a 40-year-old blonde part-time school teacher, is accused of the slaying last Oct. 30 of her lover's estranged wife, Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32. Mrs. Bergen's badly burned body was found Nov. 1 on the shores of Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County.

Police said Mrs. Klumpp claimed Mrs. Bergen was shot as they grappled for possession of a pistol. However, she admitted setting the body afire. They quoted her as saying she wanted to marry Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, with whom she had been living.

Judge Denning ordered Mrs. Klumpp bound to the grand jury over the strenuous objections of her attorney, William F. Hopkins.

Hopkins claimed the state had failed to prove the slaying occurred in Hamilton County except by quoting statements of Mrs. Klumpp herself.

"It is our contention that you cannot prove venue by the statements of the defendant," Hopkins said. "There is not a scintilla of evidence that anything occurred in this county except Detective (Wilbert) Stagenhorst's testimony as to what the defendant said."

President Eisenhower and his family and grandchildren will spend the holiday at their vacation spot in Augusta, Ga.

The Macy parade in New York, now viewed by additional millions via television, again will feature gigantic balloons bobbing down Manhattan's streets and avenues — in spite of a government ban on using helium to fill them.

The Macy people and the Good-year people, who make the balloons, put their heads together and decided to inflate the balloons with air and suspend them from huge, mobile cranes.

Pittsburgh will open a 14-month bicentennial celebration with a colorful ceremony, including a parade of 150 bagpipers, a band concert, historical speeches, and the firing of cannon. Later Pittsburghers can take in the Penn State-Pitt football game, opening event of the bicentennial sports program.

At San Diego, Calif., Dr. Frank J. Lowe, president of the Council of Churches, called for a large attendance at a nonsectarian Thanksgiving service in the city's downtown Balboa Park, as an expression of gratitude for being able to use the park.

A controversy developed several months ago when evangelist Billy Graham used the park for a meeting.

A citizen protested the use of public property for religious purposes as a possible violation of the state constitution.

The issue was resolved when the city council voted 188 to 69 to end production controls on corn in Tuesday's referendum.

And, since farmers in 25 of the 26 corn-producing states voted the same way, restrictions on corn production will come to an end this year.

In these 25 states the vote was 246,475 to end controls and only 100,064 to continue them. The only state not heard from was North Dakota, where storms delayed tabulating the votes.

The professor: Fred A. Dewey, one of two court-named attorneys for the pastor. Dewey is a University of Cincinnati teacher.

Today is the deadline for the minister to free himself of a contempt charge by agreeing to cooperate with U. S. District Court on a tax indictment. He says he'd rather stay in jail.

The attorney is trying to track down what he figures is a flaw in the ruling of Judge John H. Druel last Monday that sent the Rev. Mr. McCrackin to jail indefinitely.

But the attorney said Tuesday night that so far, "This case is unique as far as I'm concerned.

"I can't find anything like this anywhere—nothing where a defendant has refused to cooperate with anyone at all and has taken the stand that the Rev. Mr. McCrackin takes.

"But as long as I'm acting as his attorney, I'll see that he is not deprived of his legal rights.

"I know he won't change his mind. He's sincere and dedicated and believes he is trying to live as he thinks Christ would under the circumstances."

But there is some doubt if Dewey and attorney Theodore M. Berry are actually the minister's attorneys.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin has heeded none of their counsel and considers them friends of the court, but not his spokesmen.

The bachelor pastor's vow of non-cooperation extends to his county jail cell where he started a fast when committed Monday.

As of today, he has still eaten nothing, and refused to talk, answer questions, sign bond papers or aid any civil officers, from the federal judge to the guard at the jail.

The minister says he believes war is the greatest evil. For ten years, he has paid little or no income tax because it helps pay for arms.

The results were expected to strengthen the Eisenhower administration's hands in dealing with the new Democrat-controlled Congress on future farm legislation.

The voting came on the heels of recent congressional and state elections in which Republicans lost ground in farming areas.

The vote to abandon corn controls may well encourage the administration to sponsor plans to ease if not end restrictions on other crops, such as wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

The net effect of the referendum was a greater acceptance of lower government price supports for the right to grow all the corn they wish.

For consumers, the increased corn supplies and lower support prices could mean larger supplies and lower prices for meat, poultry and dairy products.

Under the old program, planting allotments were assigned growers in a designated commercial area. Those complying were eligible for price supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Under the new program, there will be no allotments. All corn will be eligible for supports at 90 per cent of the average market price of corn during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

Officials estimate that supports next year will average between $1.12 and $1.25 a bushel. Under the control program, the average would have been between $1.24 and $1.27.

Less than a fourth of the eligible growers voted in the referendum.

The vote in the 71 Ohio counties eligible under Department of Agriculture regulations defining major corn growing areas was 14,396 in favor of the new program and 4,179 in favor of the present program.

*

In only three counties—Adams, Brown and Vinton—did the vote in favor of the present support program carry.

Here is a county-by-county breakdown of the voting with the vote for the new no allotment program listed first.

Dems Appear Making Sweep In Alaska Too

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Democrats appeared headed for a major sweep today as returns mounted slowly from the first state election in Alaska.

A battle between two former governors for Alaska's second Senate seat was developing into a possible upset victory for Democrat Ernest Gruening, 71, over 39-year-old Republican Mike Stepovich.

Detroit will be host to the only professional football game of the day, the Detroit Lions versus the Green Bay Packers. The Motor City also holds a parade that is the Macy spectacle.

To celebrate the occasion the University of Texas will dedicate a replica of Santa Rita No. 1, the first of 4,085 oil wells on the university's lands. They have contributed many millions to the school's permanent fund. An annual event at Austin is the Texas A&M-University of Texas football game.

Torch Slayer To Be Tried In Cincinnati

Judge Sends Blonde's Case To Hamilton County Grand Jury

CINCINNATI (AP) — Municipal Court Judge Clarence Denning today ordered Mrs. Edythe Klumpp held to the Hamilton County Grand Jury without bond on a murder charge.

The grand jury is in constant session in Hamilton County. An aide in the prosecutor's office said the Klumpp case could be taken up when the investigation is completed and when a place could be found for it on the docket.

Mrs. Klumpp, a 40-year-old blonde part-time school teacher, is accused of the slaying last Oct. 30 of her lover's estranged wife, Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32. Mrs. Bergen's badly burned body was found Nov. 1 on the shores of Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County.

Police said Mrs. Klumpp claimed Mrs. Bergen was shot as they grappled for possession of a pistol. However, she admitted setting the body afire. They quoted her as saying she wanted to marry Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, with whom she had been living.

Judge Denning ordered Mrs. Klumpp bound to the grand jury over the strenuous objections of her attorney, William F. Hopkins.

Hopkins claimed the slaying occurred in Hamilton County except by quoting statements of Mrs. Klumpp herself.

"It is our contention that you cannot prove venue by the statements of the defendant," Hopkins said. "There is not a scintilla of evidence that anything occurred in this county except Detective (Wilbert) Stagenhorst's testimony as to what the defendant said."

"The state has failed to show that anything occurred in Hamilton County and nothing occurred in Clinton County except that a body was found."

"I know this girl must be tried but I want to be absolutely sure she is tried in the proper county."

City Prosecutor Robert Paul contended that statements made by Mrs. Klumpp could be used against her.

Hopkins related that there are statutes which permit trial in either county in such a case as this, but he declared they had been held unconstitutional by higher courts.

Mrs. Klumpp, dressed in a white blouse and black skirt, sat poker-faced among a group of defendants in other cases for approximately half an hour before her case was called.

She conferred briefly with Hopkins and, during the hearing itself, they conversed in whispers on occasion. She never spoke aloud.

The question of where Mrs. Bergen died has plagued investigators since her body was found by hunters Nov. 1.

The State Highway Patrol filed a first degree murder charge at Wilmington and Cincinnati police followed with their charge, filed here. The Ohio Criminal Code allows prosecution in either county under conditions of this case.

Officers said Mrs. Klumpp, who had been living with Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband told them Mrs. Bergen was shot in the throat accidentally in a struggle over a gun after the two discussed the chances of Mrs. Bergen obtaining a divorce. This occurred in Hamilton County, she said.

Mrs. Klumpp told officers she had put the body in the trunk of her car, taught a sewing class that night, and next day drove to Lake Cowan where she burned the body with gasoline.

Dr. Frank Cleveland, county pathologist, reported after his first autopsy he found two skull fractures and that Mrs. Bergen may have been alive when burned. A second examination revealed tracings of metal in the throat and carbon monoxide in the blood. He said this may have come from exhaust fumes of the Klumpp auto.

Police said Mrs. Klumpp told them she wanted to marry Bergen, a grocery chain employee, if Mrs. Bergen would agree to a divorce.

Bergen told officers subsequently he wanted a reconciliation, and had told this to Mrs. Klumpp.

Investigators said lie detector tests satisfied Bergen had no part in his wife's death.

Dems Appear Making Sweep In Alaska Too

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Democrats appeared headed for a major sweep today as returns mounted slowly from the first state election in Alaska.

E. L. Bartlett, 54, Democratic delegate to Congress from Alaska for the last 14 years, was a landslide winner of one of the two Senate seats that will open in January to the 49th state.

A battle between two former governors for Alaska's second Senate seat was developing into a possible upset victory for Democrat Ernest Gruening, 71, over 39-year-old Republican Mike Stepovich.

The two former governors were locked in a tight race on the basis of early returns from the 287 precincts in which ballots were cast Tuesday.

But Gruening, appointed governor of the territory under the New Deal and Fair Deal administrations of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, had made big gains over the vote total he collected in an August primary. Stepovich led Gruening by 5,700 votes in the voting three months ago.

That is the opinion of informed Western sources here. They say any idea of attempting to push an armed convoy through East Germany has been abandoned.

It would be easy for the Communists to thwart a convoy attempt without resorting to arms, the Allies reason. The East Germans would only have to throw some switches, tear up some rails or blow up a few bridges to stop Allied trains or trucks.

But to stop an airlift, the Communists would have to shoot down the planes. And Western officials do not think the Russians want to run that risk of starting World War III.

Western authorities are confident of their ability to supply their 10,000 troops in West Berlin if the Soviet Union withdraws from four-power occupation of the city and gives control of military traffic to its East German satellite regime.

Allies Seen Challenging East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Western Allies are likely to challenge any East German effort to control their traffic to Berlin by taking to the air, not by trying to force through a ground convoy.

Law Professor Tackles Riddle

How Can He Help Stubborn Cleric?

CINCINNATI (AP)—A law professor pored over his case books Tuesday night hunting for a key to the riddle of a stubborn minister who prefers to stay in jail.

'Boss Ket' Is Dead, but His Spirit To Linger for Ages

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Charles F. Kettering is dead. But if you drove your car today, you'll know he's still around in spirit. When that starter whined and turned over the motor, that was "Boss Ket" giving you a helping hand.

The 82-year-old inventor, who died in his home here Tuesday of a stroke, amassed a fortune through his genius in the automotive and other fields.

He was mostly widely acclaimed for his perfection of the self-starter in automobiles. But the 140 patents he held, on his own inventions and improvements on the inventions of others, helped revolutionize a dozen industries.

He was classified as a boy wonder in his heyday—a second Thomas Edison.

When electric cash registers ring up sales throughout the world today, they'll be ringing in tribute to Kettering. He invented them.

And if you don't notice a knock in your car motor, you can thank him for that too. He had a hand in developing anti-knock gasoline.

The baby incubators that give many a tiny infant a push down the road of life; the refrigeration unit that keeps your food from spoiling; the pilotless airplane, aerial torpedo, diesel locomotives, accounting machines — Kettering helped develop all of these.

He lapsed into a coma from which he never emerged after suffering the second stroke in two days.

Kettering's only son, Eugene, of Hindsville, Ill., was with him when he died. The inventor's wife died in 1946.

CHARLES F. KETTERING

ter of Gambier, Ohio, former rector of the church, will officiate at the services.

Born on a farm near Loudonville, in North central Ohio, on Aug. 29, 1876, Kettering became an avid reader of books in his formative years. His poor eyesight forced him to drop out of Ohio State University several times.

It was his quest for knowledge that pushed Kettering to greater and greater heights. "To me," he once said, "science is merely finding out how nature does things . . . It's just as simple as that."

Ballot Backs Benson Theory On Ag Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers voted in a referendum Tuesday to end 25-year-old government production controls on corn, the nation's largest single crop.

This was the first time since before World War II that growers of a major crop have turned thumbs down on federal restrictions as a measure for stabilizing production.

This politically significant action had been urged by Secretary of Agriculture Benson as a part of his controversial programs in agriculture.

OPERATION BY DOCTOR'S SONS SAVES HIM—Dr. Charles A. Olson takes a drink in hospital in Farmington, Minn., near St. Paul, as he recuperates from an emergency operation performed on the family kitchen floor by his non-doctor sons. During a family dinner a hunk of ham got stuck in the doctor's windpipe. He began to lose color. The sons, Robert and Charles, carried him to the kitchen and performed a tracheotomy, using a fountain pen tube to get air into his lungs. At the hospital, however, surgeons had to do a bit of repair work to make the operation a tidy job.

Eastside PTA Plans Purchases

Panel To Study Equipment Needs

A list of five things needed by the new Eastside school was approved by the Parent-Teacher Assn. at its meeting Tuesday night, and a committee was authorized to purchase one or more of them, depending on the amount of money available.

The action was taken after Howard Miller, general chairman, reported that $654.41 had been cleared at the school's first carnival last Saturday evening.

Priority needs of the school were listed as drapes for the music room, stove and refrigerator for the kitchen, furniture for the teachers' lounge, encyclopedias and record players.

The PTA also made plans to provide the Christmas treat for the pupils.

FOLLOWING the business meeting conducted by Bart M. a honey, president, and opened with a prayer by Mrs. Peggy Wood, Phil Grover, county Extension Service agent, presented awards to members of 4-H club who attend the Eastside School. Mrs. Robert Hall is the advisor of the Happy Cookers and Sewers Club.

Certificates of achievement were presented to Sally Smith, Linda Pavay, Billy Jean Gordon, Gloria Hall, Brenda Ford, Fayne Paul, Sandra Crabtree and Connie Creamer.

John Hardin, principal of Washington C. H. High School and principal speaker of the evening, told the parents and teachers about "The Elements of a Successful High School Student." He listed four major elements:

(1) proper buildings and facilities; (2) well-trained teachers and classes small enough so the teacher has time to teach the individual child; (3) mental ability, good health, persistent curiosity and desire for accomplishment; and (4) proper home and school environment, with guidance and encouragement.

HARDIN declared that a child must be taught to concentrate on his work and learn to finish his studies before he starts to play. He warned that the pupil must spend the time at his studies to do a good job and not give his work "a lick and a promise."

To the parents, he said a child must have a quiet place to study and be impressed with the fact that he can accomplish something without help.

He suggested that parents help the pupil develop the attitude that studies come first and that a "time budget" will be helpful.

Madison Mills PTO To Purchase Things Needed by School

After the report on the Hallowne Carnival at the Madison Mills School showed a net profit of $300, the sponsoring Parent-Teacher Organization, at its meeting Tuesday night, voted to allot the first five grade rooms $10 for the purchase of games to be used during the winter and approve another allotment for the purchase of first aid supplies.

During the business meeting, which was conducted by Wilbur Snapp, PTO president, the group decided to purchase a record player and radio for the use of all pupils. Named on the committee to buy them were Paul W. Huff, Mrs. Russell Lindsey, Dewey Smith and Mrs. Franklin Bailey.

Plans for the usual Christmas treat for the pupils were completed and a committee composed of

School Board OKs Resolution To Borrow Funds

Note Will Raise $23,000 for Work At New Buildings

The Washington C. H. Board of Education took steps Tuesday night to borrow $23,000 which will be used to finance additional improvements and equipment at new elementary school buildings and additions.

A part of the money will be used to pay outstanding bills for sidewalks and driveways which were not covered in the $645,000 building bond issue.

Clerk-Treasurer Fred A. Rost estimated the life of improvements which would be covered by a non-voted $23,000 bond issue at 10 years, and the board approved a resolution to issue a note in that amount in anticipation of bonds.

The note will be offered to the First National Bank.

If the old Eastside school property can be sold at the price the board hopes to receive for it, a note could be retired without resorting to issuance of a bond.

Included among the needed equipment items are playground apparatus, folding chairs, public address systems, globes and other classroom equipment.

IN THE ONLY other action taken at the adjourned session, the board approved payment of $289.38 as the city school district's share of the cost of preliminary survey work done by Kent State University before it withdrew from its survey agreement with the State Board of Education.

The State Board has before it a proposal to withdraw an order for a city-county survey of school matters in Fayette County, but the motion was tabled for a month at the November meeting of that body.

The city board agreed months ago to pay its appropriate share of survey costs after a group of citizens posted $5,000 for that purpose. Both rural boards of education have declined to participate financially.

The total bill turned in by Kent State was $868.14.

Thanksgiving Program at Jeffersonville

JEFFERSONVILLE — Jeffersonville students approached the weekend holiday with thoughts of Thanksgiving uppermost in their minds following a program Wednesday morning in the high school auditorium.

The Rev. Robert Wright, pastor of the Church of Christ, who delivered the Thanksgiving message, reminded the students of the many things for which they should be thankful and emphasized that happiness comes from giving rather than receiving. He pointed out, too, that they should be thankful that they live in a country in which they have freedom of worship and thought in a land of plenty. He told them that wealth or station in life have no bearing on personal happiness and illustrated this with quotations from the Bible.

THE PROGRAM was opened with an organ prelude by Karl J. Kay.

Virginia Harper, a member of the Student Senate which arranged it, gave the call to worship and then led the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the national anthem.

One of the features of the program was singing of four songs of Thanksgiving by the Washington C. H. High School senior choir of 62 voices under the direction of Grover Baber, head of the WHS vocal music department.

The choir made the trip to Jeffersonville in two busses and was accompanied by Baber and W. A. Smith, superintendent of the Washington C. H. schools.

Betsy Vollette played the accompaniment for the choir and Jetty Custer sang the soprano solo parts.

At the conclusion of the program, Walter Hurd, head of the Jeffersonville music department, expressed the appreciation of the Jeffersonville students to the WHS choir and invited its members and director and Supt. Smith to remain for a visit in the schools. The invitation, however, could not be accepted because the choir had to return for a similar program as its own school in the afternoon.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST

Plaques To Give Translation of Obelisk's Inscriptions

By JAMES FLOWERS
Central Press Assn.

NEW YORK — Up in Central Park there's a 3,500-year-old Egyptian obelisk which has baffled visitors for 77 years, mostly because of the strange hieroglyphics etched into its granite.

People, it seems, are just naturally curious about such things.

They stare at the 69-foot, 22-ton shaft, then walk around its base looking for a translation of the ancient scribblings. There are none.

Although Department of Parks archivists have had the answers for years, for some strange reason there has been no money to erect plaques for the translations.

However, park visitors will soon be able to clear up the obelisk "mystery" because of a recent gift to the city of four plaques inscribed with the translations.

They will be set at the base of each of the four sides of the obelisk.

THE GIFT comes from movie mogul Cecil B. DeMille, who somehow got wind of the public's deciphering dilemma. Not one to stand idly by while such a fascinating monument remained anonymous to thousands of passers-by, DeMille immediately made arrangements with the city for the erection of the plaques.

"My offer is inspired by my deep abiding love for New York City where I spent much of my youth," he said.

"The obelisk was erected the year I was born and I used to play near it when I was a child more than 70 years ago."

When, in 1869, the Khedive Ismail of Egypt offered one of two obelisks (the other now stands in London) to the American consul, he felt he was perfectly safe in making.

The Rev. Robert Wright, pastor of the Church of Christ, who delivered the Thanksgiving message, reminded the students of the many things for which they should be thankful and emphasized that happiness comes from giving rather than receiving. He pointed out, too, that they should be thankful that they live in a country in which they have freedom of worship and thought in a land of plenty. STEPS were undertaken for its removal. One day a tall Corrинг arrived in Alexandria harbor with the old steamer Dessoong prepared to take the obelisk away, but he found himself confronted with every possible obstacle and much was done to foil him.

The resourceful Corrинг cut a hole in the bow below the water line while the ship was in dry dock, drew the shaft through the opening, straightened it around to be parallel with the keel and replaced the bow plates.

Then with the plinth and steps safely in the hold, he sailed for New York.

William H. Vanderbilt picked up the shipping tab of more than $100,000. And on Feb. 22, 1881, the ancient monolith was officially accepted by the city.

BRIEFLY the inscriptions on the once pink granite — it is now brown — monument were self-praise by three chest-thumping Pharaohs, tracing their ancestry to Ra, the Sun God.

Pharaoh Thotmes III had the monolith quarried at Syene in Upper Egypt in honor of his father and had it set up in front of the Temple of Ra (the Sun) at Helopolis.

On the center column on each face he had this message inscribed for posterity:

Cleopatra's Needle

ing the presentation, confident it would be refused.

Well, sir, you could have knocked the khedive over with a feather when the consul accepted the obelisk and then presented his gift to the City of New York.

So in 1885 they impregnated its surfaces with a special process consisting of paraffin wax.

Fortunately, the preservative worked, and has prevented what would have been the rapid deterioration of the oldest and most interesting monument in America.

The obelisk, already slandered by the undeserved nickname of "Cleopatra's Needle," had had a rough life. In 500 B. C., Cambyses, the disrespectful Persian, invaded Egypt, overthrew the obelisks and plundered the temples.

The New York "needle" lay for nearly 500 years partly covered with sand. The position is clearly indicated by the erosion and destruction of the hieroglyphics on the exposed surfaces by salt crystals and sand storms.

In 12 B. C., the Romans brought the obelisks to the harbor of Alexandria to celebrate their conquest of Egypt. There the much-abused monument stood until the frisky khephred tried his Indian-giving act.

THEN, two years after the obelisk had found a home in Central Park, pieces of rock began to fall.

Worried archivists decided that a t

the New York weather was to o serve for the Needle.

Under the plan, the obelisk was to be impregnated with a special process consisting of paraffin wax.

Fortunately, the preservative worked, and has prevented what would have been the rapid deterioration of the oldest and most interesting monument in America.

The obelisk is a connecting link between ancient and modern history, between an ancient monarchy and a modern democracy.

Of the thousands who daily pass it in the park few realize that the granite shaft was familiar to Moses, and 1,500 years later was seen by Joseph and Mary when they fled to Egypt with the infant Jesus.

Incidentally, Rameses II neglected to mention in his share of the obelisk that his daughter had pulled out of the bulrushes a baby, later known as Moses.

William H. Vanderbilt picked up the shipping tab of more than $100,000. And on Feb. 22, 1881, the ancient monolith was officially accepted by the city.

AERONCA PLANS MERGER WITH WESTERN FIRM

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Aerona Manufacturing Corp. here say a merger has been set up with Longren Aircraft Co., Inc., Torrance, Calif.

Under the plan, Longren would become a Aerona subsidiary, with no change in management of either unit. An Aerona spokesman said Tuesday part of the deal involves a swap of each firm's stocks, based on a formula. Both firms make assemblies for military planes.

At the conclusion of the program, Walter Hurd, head of the Jeffersonville music department, expressed the appreciation of the Jeffersonville students to the WHS choir and invited its members and director and Supt. Deaths, Funerals

Corwin E. Day

SABINA — Corwin E. Day, 45, Haines Rd., Fayette County, died in Clinton County Memorial Hospital in Wilmington at 8:05 p. m. Tuesday. He had been seriously ill two weeks and in the hospital nine days.

Born in Sabina, he was employed for several years at the Randall Co. in Wilmington and for the last 10 years had farmed in Jasper Township, Fayette County.

He was a member of the Center Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge in Sabina and was a combat veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, and four sons, Ronald L., a student at Georgia Tech University at Atlanta; James H. in the Air Force in France, and Robert E. and Gary H., both at home.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Littleton Funeral Home here and burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery.

Masonic services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the funeral home, where friends may call after 2 p. m. Thursday.

WILBUR R. SMITH — Services for Wilbur R. Smith, 517 Fourth St., who died at 4:05 p. m. Saturday, were held at 2:30 Tuesday in the Parrett Funeral Home by the Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Mrs. Betty Knisley sang "Good Night and Good Morning" and "Beyond the Sunset." Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter accompanied her.

Mr. Smith was a veteran of World War I. James McCrory of the VFW Post 3762, assisted by Harold Cox, folded the American flag and presented it to Mrs. Gertrude Lambert.

Pallbearers were Leo Gilmore, Walter Boggs, James R. Brown, Milton Stapleton, Clay Snyder and P. C. Lambert.

Burial was in the Washington Cemetery.

JOHN SNYDER — Services for John Snyder, 80-year-old Octa resident, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home, Jeffersonville. Mr. Snyder, a carpenter, died Sunday.

The Rev. C. R. Williamson, pastor of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, officiated, and burial was in Milledgeville Cemetery. Pallbearers were Lloyd Schlichter, George Jordan, Roger Snyder, Herman Davis, Harry Adams and Russell Hagerly.

Politicos Say Talks
To Tell How Wind
Blows in Statehouse

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The next ten days may determine how the political winds blow when Democrats take over control of the Statehouse.

Politicos tag three meetings during that period as possible weather vanes for the administration of Michael V. DiSalle, who succeeds GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill on Jan. 12.

First is a meeting in Cleveland Friday of Democratic state senators to pick their floor leader for the legislative session starting Jan. 5.

Word got around that DiSalle favored a fellow Toledoan, Sen. Frank W. King, for majority leader over Sen. Charles J. Carney, union official of Youngstown. But Carney said he would make a fight if it and sought backing from the big Cleveland delegation.

Some saw the hurry-up Cleveland meeting as a move to forestall efforts in King's behalf at a gathering of party leaders with DiSalle in Toledo next Tuesday to discuss patronage and other administration matters.

Those meeting could set the stage for a caucus of House Democrats in Columbus Dec. 5 to pick a speaker, majority leader and other officers.

State Democratic headquarters and other party sources indicated that the governor-elect preferred Rep. James A. Lantz of Lancaster for House speaker over Rep. James J. McGroarty of Cleveland, minority leader in past sessions.

Members of big Cuyahoga County delegations usually have been party leaders in one or both houses of the Legislature. Use of the unit rule, binding all members of the delegations to vote as the majority determines, gives Cuyahoga delegations a major voice in selections.

That county has 18 of 78 Democratic house members in the next Legislature. In the Senate, six of the 20 Democrats are from Cuyahoga County. Mahoning County has two Democratic senators and three representatives.

House Republicans, who number 61, already have picked Rep. Roger Cloud of Bellfontaine, for minority leader. He was speaker in the last two sessions. Senate Republicans are expected to name Sen. C. Stanley Meekem of Athens, former president pro-temp, as leader of their 13-member minority.

DiSalle's success in handling the reported rift over legislative leadership is of major interest in political circles. Some speculate that his acknowledge ability as an organizer faces severe tests to keep the party's state machine running smoothly.

The state organization was rebuilt by DiSalle's hand-picked chairman, William L. Coleman of Marysville, and demonstrated its efficiency in the Democratic election sweep.

DiSalle plans to confer soon with O'Neill about the transition of the state administration from Republican to Democratic hands. O'Neill assured his successor full cooperation by state departments.

DiSalle recently started a survey of the pressing financial picture. Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers, with a nod from O'Neill, assigned James Maloon, head of his research division, to make the survey.

Bowers would like to remain as commissioner in the DiSalle administration. He has been with the department 25 years. His appointment by former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche expires next February.

Japan Socialists Rap Treaty Talks

TOKYO (AP) — Japan Socialists mobilized today for an all-out attack on efforts to revise the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty.

"We demand that revision talks now under way be canceled," Soji Okada, head of the Socialists' Foreign Policy Committee, said in a statement. "We also demand that the existing Japan-U.S. security pact be canceled."

Foreign minister Aichiro Fujiyama and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur started talks last month on revision of the treaty, under which the United States maintains bases and troops here.

Women's Club Files Complaint with PUCO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission today recognized a complaint of the Oberlin Junior Women's Club about nine New York Central Railroad crossings at Oberlin.

The complaint says the crossings are dangerous and cause damage to vehicles because they are unmarked and ill-kept. The club, which took up the matter with Oberlin's City Council, wants crossings repaired, and weeds cut where necessary. The council passed the complaint on to the commission.

The number of airline workers in the United States has almost doubled since the end of World War II.

Camp Fire Council Officers Elected And Reports Made

The annual meeting and tea of the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls in the St. Andrew's Church Hall was opened with a brief welcoming speech by Mrs. Winston Hill, outgoing president of the council.

Mrs. Hill reviewed the past year's activities of the council and cited the strides that have been made in establishing new groups at both the Blue Bird and Camp Fire age levels.

The administrative secretary, Mrs. Harford Hankins Jr., spoke of the past year's accomplishments and commended members of the board, as well as the leaders, who had made this progress possible. Awards were presented by Mrs. Hankins from National Camp Fire headquarters to Mrs. Robert Woodmansee and Mrs. John Bailey for their service as leaders for several years.

In the election, Mrs. Clark Shepard was chosen president; Mrs. Hill, first vice president; Mrs. Wayne Boyer, second vice president; Miss Marie Marchant, secretary and Mrs. Donald Murdock, treasurer.

New members appointed to the board of the council are Mrs. Ethel Caldwell, Mrs. Ralph Child, Mrs. Paul Craig, Mrs. Samuel Douds, Mrs. Albert Fackler, Mrs. Howard Foster, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Gene Smith, Mrs. Herbert Sollars, Mrs. Jane Ann Tremlett and Mrs. Marvin Rossmann.

The nominating committee for 1959 is Mrs. Wayne Boyer, chairman, Mrs. Robert Goldsherry, Mrs. Thomas Gormley and Mrs. Richard Whiteside.

The meeting closed with the Woehlo ceremonial dance by Patty Cook, Patty Morgan, Sue Rodgers, Christine Melick, Karen Wood, Kathy Smith, Lynn Holloman, Nance Boughn, Jeanette Wolfe, Deanna Whited, Paulette Callender, Rebecca DeWitt, Pamela Caldwell, Wilma Coulter, Connie Shonkwieler, Mary Lou Forrest, Judy Jacobs, Jan Bailey, Donna Persick, Victoria Tremlett.

A cornucopia basket overflowing with rutum fruit centered the attractive tea table which had been prepared by the council's social director, Mrs. Robert Brubaker and the committee. Attending the afternoon function were council members Mrs. Fudd Moore, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. John

Rotary Club Hears Address By Minister

"Days of Thanksgiving answer a need among people throughout the world — a need to turn to God," the Rev. Dennis D. Patterson, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, told his fellow Rotarians at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the service club.

Thanksgiving, he said, comes from the Hebrew word "yahad" and means "praise".

Pointing out that all religious faiths have their Thanksgiving festivals, the speaker suggested that Americans can best observe the day by remembering — particularly the many blessings they have received; by a spirit of appreciation for the bounties of harvest and of freedom, and by sharing their gifts with others.

MR. PATTERSON spoke of the Christian Rural Overseas Program and the work it is doing among the refugees, orphans and disaster victims of the world.

CROP is a community appeal of Church World Service for farm commodities or cash in lieu of commodities.

Rotarians joined in a free-will CROP offering at the close of the Thanksgiving message.

Mr. Patterson was introduced by Howard D. Fogle of the November program committee.

PRESIDENT Joe Campbell announced that there will be no luncheon meeting next week because of the Rotary Ann party at which guests were Joe Henry and the Country Club Wednesday evening.

Larry Howland, Bill Enders, Mt. Sterling, was a visiting Rotarian.

Birthday greetings were extended to Charles Pensyl and Clarence Cooper.

3 Meetings In Few Days Eyed by Dems

Politicos Say Talks
To Tell How Wind
Blows in Statehouse

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The next ten days may determine how the political winds blow when Democrats take over control of the Statehouse.

Politicos tag three meetings during that period as possible weather vanes for the administration of Michael V. DiSalle, who succeeds GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill on Jan. 12.

"A New Look" Needed In Our Tax System

It is highly significant that more individuals who are giving thought to taxation matters, including the top men in government and industry, are recognizing and speaking out frankly of the urgent need for performing major surgery on our federal tax structure.

In many states the same is true relative to state taxes, where demands for new and increased levies are constantly being urged. In many places local taxes also need looking into and this should not be avoided because "some other localities pay more."

All this involves the need for an honest "new look" at our tax system, both federal and in many of our states including Ohio, with a view to making some fundamental changes that will produce adequate revenue for our real, not fancied needs. These changes, naturally must be carefully made with the least possible damage to the economic system under which we all live.

In too many cases common sense adjustments are required.

Too many are dodging in various ways and not paying enough taxes, while others perhaps are paying too much.

The old and obsolete shibboleths—such as "tax only the rich" idea still dominates too much of the public thinking on taxation. There are many living in very comfortable conditions who perhaps should pay more than they now pay. Others are charged too much.

The existing tax system begins to show signs of discouraging our economic growth is . . .

In nearly all forms of government, federal state and local, there is too much tax waste for the benefits the general public receives. Overhead waste may be one of the answers.

Among those who take this general view and have given the situation study are such officials as Vice President Nixon, and Cabinet members Summerfield, Weeks and Mitchell. Mr. Nixon emphasizes that the goal should be "a tax structure which creates more jobs, more income and more genuine security." Postmaster General Summerfield holds that "lowered tax rates would be more than compensated for in the revenue increase they would precipitate."

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, in recommending a uniform manufacturers' excise tax along with income tax revision expresses the conviction that we must have a better balanced tax system, and that our present system is too vulnerable to ups and downs in the economy.

Cornell Teaches Horse Shoeing

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That accidents are the leading cause of death in the United States from the age of 1 to 35.

The human brain is a wonderful instrument—it starts working the moment you are born, and never stops until you stand up to make a speech.

If your boy can't make up his mind what he wants to do in life, why not send him to Cornell University? They've got a course there in shoeing horses.

Here's another practical note: At a recent insurance company convention held in the Hollywood Beach Hotel in Florida, this was a seminar topic: "What the man in the street should know about yacht insurance."

Coddling Our Enemies

The first task of a nation is self-defense.

If a nation is unable to defend itself by arms or by diplomacy or by some other means, it is likely to be absorbed by powerful neighbors and its people will lose their independence.

The United States, as a government, knows administratively that its objective enemy, Soviet Russia, through the Communist party, engages in efforts to overthrow the American way of life by numerous direct and devious means. The United States, judicially declines to take cognizance of such facts.

The difference of view arises out of certain constitutional provisions which have at different times been interpreted differently.

The right to travel appears nowhere in the Constitution. There is no provision which gives a citizen the right to move about at all.

On the other hand, some claim that the right to travel arises out of the "pursuit of happiness" in the Declaration of Independence or the "general welfare" phrase in the preamble to the Constitution.

Up to the most recent decisions of the Supreme Court, the granting of a passport was the function of the State Department, although early in our history there were other provisions. The passport has been variously interpreted but it has come to mean, throughout the world, a statement from one government to another, that the person holding such a document is in good standing in his own country and that he is likely to be satisfactory in another. At any rate, it is a mark of identification.

The Supreme Court's decisions in passport cases have not clearly defined the passport. That, of course, is up to Congress. However, as one effect of those decisions, as Roderic L. O'Connor of the State Department pointed out in an address recently, 59% "applications (were received) for passports from persons who have records of activity in support of the international communist movement. Before the Supreme Court's decision many of those persons had been refused passports or had abandoned their applications when asked to identify themselves as Communists. Since the decision, these persons have moved promptly to take advantage of the breach.

in our defenses. They are getting their passports while the getting is good.

O'Connor does not go further than to say that this is a dangerous situation. What he means by that is spelled out by examples rather than by an assertion of a principle. But when the example are added up, it is quite possible to say that American passports are being given to persons who are by conviction or by profession engaged in doing damage to the United States.

The State Department can not help itself in view of the decisions of the Supreme Court. For instance O'Connor writes:

"We have had to give passports to such ardent Communist supporters as Hugh Hardymon and Anita and Henry Willcox, all of whom attended a communistic peace conference in 1952 at Peking, in Red China, in evasion of passport restrictions.

All of them made statements accusing the United States of using germ warfare in the Korean conflict."

Congress needs to act early with regard to the passport situation. Congress needs to pass a law clearly defining a passport, clearly defining who is entitled to a passport and who is not so entitled, and what are the limitations of the State Department in the issuance of such passports. Granted that the courts have opened the doors wide as they can ever be, it is up to Congress to pass a constitutional law so that a passport is not just a piece of paper.

As long as Congress fails to pass such a law, the Supreme Court decisions stand and the passport remains merely a card of identification and not an accurate one at that. It might just as well be issued for alien spies, murderers, as for Roderic L. O'Connor of the State Department pointed out in an address recently, 59% "applications (were received) for passports from persons who have records of activity in support of the international communist movement. Before the Supreme Court's decision many of those persons had been refused passports or had abandoned their applications when asked to identify themselves as Communists. Cough May Sometimes Serve Useful Purpose

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

GET RID of that cough!

A constant hacking cough can wear a person down more quickly than many diseases. Not only does it interfere with your rest, but it irritates respiratory tissues, tires your muscles and generally weakens your resistance to disease-producing germs.

Severe coughing, in some cases, can even produce hemorrhoids.

May Be Symptom

A cough itself, of course, is not a disease. However, it may be a symptom of one. Coughing, for example, might indicate tuberculosis, or coughing with prolonged hoarseness sometimes indicates cancer.

In most cases, coughing should be halted. Ordinarily, this is a relatively easy procedure for your doctor. That's why you should call him when you develop a serious cough. He'll probably recommend some newer drug which will do the trick quickly.

Inhaling Helpful

Or maybe he'll suggest inhaling any of several easy-to-prepare mixtures. Inhaling steam from a pint of boiling water to which you have added one-half to one grain of menthol might at times even be quite helpful.

So might inhaling the vapors from boiling water containing a few drops of tincture of benzoin, or a mixture of boiling water, menthol and tincture of hydrocortisone are often curative.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

D.E.: I have what the doctors diagnose as "tennis elbow."

They have treated it with shots of codine but it did not help.

Do you know of any cures for this ailment?

Answer: "Tennis Elbow" is an inflammation of the tendons and ligaments around the elbow due to a strain or sprain.

Proper physical therapy is usually helpful and injections of hydrocortisone are often curative.

Fake Logs Burned

FLOYDS KNOB, Ky. (AP)—A fire destroyed the Pak-A-Fry plant here, burning up the firm's entire inventory of artificial fireplace logs.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. And what do we have to be thankful for?

For two things, mainly:

1. That we're still alive at a time when the United States and the Soviet Union have enough atomic and hydrogen bombs to make the human race look like a piece of wrapping paper that was burned in an open field years ago.

2. That so long as there is no war we can go on hoping that war between the East and West, between the Communist and non-Communist world, can be postponed until in the end there will be no war.

But every year ahead — from one Thanksgiving Day till the next — will be an uneasy one.

Communism is a crusading belief, bent on capturing the world. The Western democracies have the task of building dikes against the tide, with aid and arms, hoping in the end their way of life will look more attractive.

It won't be easy. In the struggle between the two beliefs, the democracies may have to move further and further towards socialism, and communism further and further towards individual freedom.

In the end — if peace can be preserved — communism and capitalist democracy may have lost so much of their original identity that they will have become something different from what either side imagines now, and almost identical.

The best reason for thinking so is that life itself — and life means both ideas and men's desire — is steadily undergoing change.

At this moment when the West is giving aid to more backward peoples — and still trying to balance its budget — it feels that it is doing the best it can. Years from now, if communism wins, the West may feel it did far less than enough.

Communism, both in China and in the Soviet Union, is straining its utmost to come abreast of and surpass the West in a matter of a few years. As an example: the recently announced Soviet economic plan.

The West has no reason to be self-satisfied. It's in a life and death struggle. Because it has led the world for centuries — in production and living standards — is no guarantee it can continue to do so.

What is unknown now, and seldom talked about, is the potential of the backward people, in Asia and Africa. That potential will become clearer when they get started on the road to the 20th century and begin to perform with the energy all men are capable of.

One thing is sure: On this Thanksgiving eve the West, proud and self-assured for so long, cannot look into the future and be positive that on some future Thanksgiving Day it will be the winner.

U. S. Business Can Give Plenty Of Thanks Now

Remember How Much Better Things Are Compared to Past

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—You can find plenty to be thankful for Thursday day if you try.

Look over the business scene and just for one day at least put aside worries about the queasy stock market, the disturbing world trouble spots, the high cost of living (and the fears it may go higher later on), burdensome taxes (and the threat that they may go higher still), and the hard core of unemployment.

Just remember how much better
a lot of things look today than a few months back.

The turkey on your Thanksgiving table costs a little less this year than last. And the government says food prices may ease enough for awhile to keep its cost of living index on the same even keel it has held since July.

Fears of further inflation, especially of the runaway kind, are easing a bit now, too.

They are based largely on expectations of continuing federal deficits and of still more twists in the wage-price spiral. But Washington now tells us that rising tax collections next year and the government's new determination to hold down spending should keep the coming year's deficit lower than first feared.

Business earnings are picking up. They're not back to where they were last Thanksgiving, but they're healthier than they were last Easter. If profits continue to improve, it will make the stocks
you hold look safer and the returns on them as good or better.

Corporations have learned cost saving tricks that partly offset rising wage scales. This can hold down prices or steady profits or both.

Industrial output has been rising, bringing some of the jobless back to work and lengthening the work week for others. The government says manufacturers' new orders are gaining, promising still greater industrial activity next year, which in time will whittle
at the total of the jobless.

Most individual incomes have held high. Strikes have pulled the total down a bit, but as they are settled incomes are expected to climb again.

MERCHANTS talk confidently of record Christmas sales this year.
They say that general business recovery has perked up consumer confidence.

And, finally, while hopes of much easing in the cold war are mighty slim, even here there's something to be thankful for. So far it's been mostly a war of words. As long as they keep talking, they may stave off the shooting.

Municipal League To Draft New Rate Schedule for Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—A meeting here Dec. 11 of the Ohio Municipal League's public utilities committee will aim at drafting a new Ohio utility rate-making law. The group hopes to save consumers 75 million dollars a year.

Cleveland Law Director Ralph
S. Locher called the meeting. He is chairman of the OML, which represents 470 Ohio communities.

Locher said the committee will draft a bill to place before Gov-elect Michael V. DiSalle and the new Legislature when they take office. The proposed bill would offer a new rate-making formula, Locher said.

"This meeting will be the league's initial step in our efforts to get a new utility rate law that will save consumers $75,000,000
yearly," Locher said.

"Ohio is the only state favoring utility monopolies with an outdated formula."

Adult Court Slated To Try Hit-Skipper

CINCINNATI (AP) — Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin F.
Schwartz today relinquished jurisdiction of a 16-year-old youth charged with having been the driver of an automobile which struck and killed a woman and her small son here last Wednesday night.

Judge Schwartz directed that the youth, John Charles Pegg, be turned over to Common Pleas Court for prosecution on a manslaughter charge.

The victim of the mishap were Mrs. Annette Zimmerman, 37, and her son, Robert, 8. They were hit as they crossed a street. The driver sped away without stopping.

Young Pegg was arrested last Friday and admitted being the driver of the car.

You can shoot only one black bear in a season in West Virginia and he must weigh more than 150 pounds. It's up to you, says Conservation Game Chief C. O. Handley to determine how much the bear weighs before you shoot the critter.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES MARTIN JACOBS

Miss Martha Jane Walls Bride of Mr. James Jacobs

Miss Martha Jane Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walls of Jeffersonville, became the bride of Mr. James Martin Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs of Jeffersonville, Nov. 16 in the Jeffersonville Methodist Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar adorned with vases of white chrysanthemums, ferns and candelabra, by the Rev. C. R. Williamson, the pastor, at 2:30 o'clock.

A half hour of traditional nuptial music was presented by Miss Sara Sue Davidson of Jeffersonville, organist.

Miss Davidson selections included "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Samerel," "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love," and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was lovely in a ballerina length gown of nylon sheer and lace, which featured a fitted bodice fashioned with a sabrina neckline and brief sleeves. The very bouffant skirt, worn over an old fashion hoop, was enhanced with a wide front lace panel. She wore three-quarter length mitts of nylon sheer. Her finger length veil of bridal silk illusion was caught to a tiara of iridescent pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow throned white orchids.

Miss Carol Ann Frost of Jamestown was her cousin's maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of green taffeta with an overskirt of nylon net. The fitted bodice was highlighted with a sabrina neckline and back accented with a V neck ending in black velvet streamers. She wore a headpiece of matching velvet. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Mrs. Ted Long extended the hospitalities of her home to the members of the Willing To Help Class, McNair Presbyterian Church, for their regular meeting.

McNair Class Fills Thanksgiving Baskets

Mrs. Ted Long extended the hospitalities of her home to the members of the Willing To Help Class, McNair Presbyterian Church, for their regular meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Christopher and son, Stephen, of Oxford, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Christopher and daughter, Sue, 919 Lincoln Dr.

Mrs. John Schiller led devotions and a Bible quiz followed by a Thanksgiving Story and prayer.

Final plans were made for a Christmas box to be sent to Morris Fork, Ky. This box will be packed at the combined Christmas party of the Willing To Help Class and the Missionary Society of the church when they met at the home of Mrs. Naomi Reif, Dec. 2.

Plans and the calendars for the year were completed.

Three Thanksgiving baskets were prepared at this meeting to be given to shut-ins of the church.

In a Thanksgiving contest, the honors went to Mrs. Clifford Foster and Mrs. Schiller.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Reif.

Mrs. Ray Wieland will be hostess for the Dec. 30 meeting.

55th Annual Installation Held By Royal Chapter, Eastern Star

The 65th annual installation of Royal Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Monday evening in the Masonic Temple.

The chapter room was decorated with tall arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery. In the East was a circle of little shelves holding dressed dolls, each standing for qualities such as love, happiness, and faith which were made by the new worthy matron, Mrs. Dorothy Dellingier.

Other officers installed were: James D. Thomas, worthy patron; Mrs. Mildred Seymour, associate matron; Robert Seymour, associate matron; Mrs. Margaret Hurtt, secretary; Mrs. Marie Mace, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Melvin, conductress; Mrs. Verna McCrum, associate conductress; Miss Norma Flee, chaplain, Mrs. Jane Ferneau, marshal; Mrs. Mary Black, pianist; Mrs. Mindonna Cook, Adal; Mrs. Madge Yoakum, Ruth; Mrs. Carolyn Thomas, Esther; Miss Ethel Stewardson, Martha; Miss Jean Everhart, Electa; Mrs. Judy Reeves, warden and Walter Elliott sentinel.

Mrs. M. Z. Clever prompter and Mrs. Marian Stephens, Mrs. Marie Hawk and Mrs. Clever are pages.

Honored guests present were the past grand matron, Miss Marie L. Hamilton, Circleville; Mrs. Irene Thorburn, deputy grand matron of District 23; Mrs. Clifford Hughes, grand representative from New Holland, Mrs. Ruth Hammon, Grand Representative from Chillicothe, and Mr. Robert Seymour, high priest of Fayette Chapter, Washington C. H.

Installing officers were Mrs. Irene Thorburn, Mrs. Vera Veal, Mrs. Cecile Allen, Mrs. Hazel Weade, all past matrons of Royal Chapter, Mrs. Marie L. Hamilton, Circleville, and Mrs. Marian Baldwin, of Bainbridge.

Mrs. Carolyn Thomas, retiring worthy matron, received a past matron pin from Royal Chapter by Mrs. Irene Thorburn, deputy grand matron, District 23, made the presentation. Mrs. Thomas gave the closing address to the members and visitors.

Mr. Harold D. Thomas, retiring worthy patron, thanked the chapter for its cooperation during the past year.

The 167 members and visitors retired to the banquet hall for tea delicacies served from a appropriately decorated table.

Presiding over the silver service was the junior past worthy matron, Mrs. Carolyn Thomas, and the past matron, Miss Ethel Stewardson.

The registration committee for the evening included Mrs. Hazel Weade, Mrs. Orpha L. Wilson, Mrs. Vera Veal, Mrs. Jessie

Rose Avenue PTA Enjoys Travel Films

Rose Avenue PTA members enjoyed films portraying a round-the-world tour at their regular meeting Tuesday night in the elementary school.

The films, made by George Sever, were narrated by a tape recording which included incidental music. Sever was introduced by David Ogan, program committee chairman.

Mrs. Chester Puckett, president, opened the meeting with a Thanksgiving prayer, followed by reports of the secretary, treasurer and chairmen of standing committees. The president thanked those members who assisted with the successful levy campaign, and Arthur Leeth was named to make arrangements for a gesture of appreciation to members of the school patrol.

For their monthly missionary project the society made a contribution to the Alaska Christian Home, in Homer, Alaska.

Roll call was answered by the 13 members present.

A Christmas basket will be given to a needy family by the group.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Robert Breakfield, Mrs. Earl Hagard, Mrs. Hugh Matson, Mrs. Levern Morgan, Mrs. Coyt Stookey and daughter, Elaine, and Mrs. John Frederick.

Hostesses for the potluck were Mrs. Ottice Stookey, Mrs. A. L. Allen and Mrs. Ray Mershon.

Nowadays the words "string beans" are a misnomer; modern varieties of snap beans have no strings.

The next regular meeting, at which teachers will be host and hostesses, will be held Jan. 27.

Announcement was made of the Christmas program at the school Dec. 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shonkwiler, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. John McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. James Shadley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Forrest and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Williams.

The school banner for the best attendance at the PTA meeting went to Mrs. Mary Gillespie's fifth grade room. Phil Grover, associate county extension agent, presented awards to Rose Avenue 4-H members who completed their projects.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES MARTIN JACOBS

Miss Martha Jane Walls Bride of Mr. James Jacobs

Miss Martha Jane Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walls of Jeffersonville, became the bride of Mr. James Martin Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs of Jeffersonville, Nov. 16 in the Jeffersonville Methodist Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar adorned with vases of white chrysanthemums, ferns and candelabra, by the Rev. C. R. Williamson, the pastor, at 2:30 o'clock.

A half hour of traditional nuptial music was presented by Miss Sara Davidson of Jeffersonville, organist.

Miss Davidson selections included "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Saramere," "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love," and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was lovely in a ballerina length gown of nylon sheer and lace, which featured a fitted bodice fashioned with a sabrina neckline and brief sleeves. The very bouffant skirt, worn over an old fashion hoop, was enhanced with a wide front lace panel. She wore three-quarter length mitts of nylon sheer. Her finger length veil of bridal silk illusion was caught to a tiara of iridescent and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow throned white orchids.

Miss Carol Ann Frost of Jamestown was her cousin's maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of green taffeta with an overskirt of nylon net. The fitted bodice was highlighted with a sabrina neckline and back accented with a V neck ending in black velvet streamers. She wore a headpiece of matching velvet. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Miss Janice Faye Frost of Jamestown was Miss Walls' bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina length gown of orchid taffeta with an overskirt of nylon net. A sabrina neckline accented the fitted bodice and the back was highlighted with a V neck that ended in streamers of black velvet. She wore black velvet headpiece. A corsage of white feathered carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

Mr. Danny Hopkins was the best man.

Mrs. Walls chose for her daughter's wedding, a street length gown of blue crepe with blue accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of pink rose buds. Mrs. Jacobs was wearing a orchid street length gown with matching jacket. With this she combined black accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations.

A reception was held in the church's dining room for the bridal party and the immediate families following the exchange of vows.

The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, held a tiered cake, punch bowl and silver service.

The hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Virgil Frost and Miss Julie Ann Jacobs, sister of the groom.

They were corsages of feathered carnations.

For their short wedding trip the new Mrs. Jacobs was wearing a royal blue jersey sheath with white accessories. The orchids from her bouquet were pinned to her shoulder.

They are at home to their friends at 5 State St. in Jeffersonville.

The bride was graduated from Jeffersonville High School in 1958. Mr. Jacobs was graduated from Jeffersonville High School in 1956 and is employed by the Fannin and Cook Elevator there.

McNair Class Fills Thanksgiving Baskets

Mrs. Ted Long extended the hospitalities of her home to the members of the Willing To Help Class, McNair Presbyterian Church, for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Martin O'Cull, president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. John Schiller led devotions and a Bible quiz followed by a Thanksgiving Story and prayer.

Final plans were made for a Christmas box to be sent to Morris Fork, Ky. This box will be packed at the combined Christmas party of the Willing To Help Class and the Missionary Society of the church when they met at the home of Mrs. Naomi Reif, Dec. 2.

Plans and the calendars for the year were completed.

Three Thanksgiving baskets were prepared at this meeting to be given to shut-ins of the church.

In a Thanksgiving contest, the honors went to Mrs. Clifford Foster and Mrs. Schiller.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Reif.

Mrs. Ray Wieland will be hostess for the Dec. 30 meeting.

Rose Avenue PTA Enjoys Travel Films

Rose Avenue PTA members enjoyed films portraying a round-the-world tour at their regular meeting Tuesday night in the elementary school.

The films, made by George Seaver, were narrated by a tape recording which included incidental music. Seaver was introduced by David Ogan, program committee chairman.

Mrs. Chester Puckett, president, opened the meeting with a Thanksgiving giving prayer, followed by reports of the secretary, treasurer and chairmen of standing committees. The president thanked those members who assisted with the successful levy campaign, and Arthur Leeth was named to make arrangements for a gesture of appreciation to members of the school patrol.

For their monthly missionary project the society made a contribution to the Alaska Christian Home in Homer, Alaska.

Roll call was answered by the 13 members present.

A Christmas basket will be given to a needy family by the group.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Robert Breakfield, Mrs. Earl Hagard, Mrs. Hugh Matson, Mrs. Vern Morgan, Mrs. Coy Stookey and daughter, Elaine, and Mr. John Frederick.

Hostesses for the potluck were Mrs. Ottie Stookey, Mrs. A. L. Allen and Mrs. Ray Mershon.

Nowadays the words "string beans" are a misnomer; modern varieties of snap beans have no strings.

The Communists staged maneuvers in early October near Swatow, a mainland port between Quemoy and Hong Kong.

Between 80,000 and 90,000 troops were engaged, some as a theoretically hostile force and others as defenders. Eleven planes and several warships also were involved.

People of Weisha village, believing it was the real thing, attacked Communist troops who were simulating a retreat.

Red reinforcements rushed to the scene, encircled the village and opened up with machine guns. More than 300 villagers were killed. Most of the others were arrested.

Estranged Wife Kills Man with Single Shot

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Nunn, 27, was killed Tuesday night when struck near the heart by a bullet. Police said Nunn forced his way into the home here of his estranged wife, Vila, 39. Mrs. Nunn ran upstairs and got a pistol, police said, and fired one shot at her husband.

Boy Just Couldn't Win On or Off Baseball Lot

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Allen Prescott decided it was safer to be a spectator after he suffered a broken right leg last year in a baseball game. So the 16-year-old youth was understandably discouraged when he went to watch a football game and the same leg was broken by a player careening out of bounds.

Nationalists Report Pair Of Mainland Revolts Fails

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist officials today reported two bloody uprisings against the Communists this fall on Red China's mainland opposite Formosa.

They said civilians attacked Red troops in each case in the mistaken belief Chiang Kai-shek's soldiers had landed. Both uprisings were reported to have been brutally suppressed.

Government sources said they showed the people of coastal Fukien and Kwangtung provinces hated the Communists, and would support a Nationalist invasion.

Officials put out this story: Heavy Nationalist counterbattery fire in the offshore war Sept.

Safari into Central Africa Recorded for TV Audiences

NEW YORK (AP)—Not everyone who wants to visit Central Africa will go there. Fortunately for stay-at-homes, however, Lowell Thomas has returned with a filmed report of his expedition to the Belgian Congo and the Mountains of the Moon.

His account of his odyssey will be visible to the home viewing audience Dec. 6 on High Adventure over CBS-TV.

When he returned, Thomas brought him for a visit in this country the young Belgian hunter who guided him on safari. His name is Chris Pollet, and he's spent nine of his 28 years in Africa.

Absolutely everybody with sufficient money and enthusiasm can go to Central Africa these days—and he need not rough it in some of the out-of-the-way places to which Thomas and his crew penetrated. In the past year, for example, Pollet has guided 37 Americans about with gun or camera from his main lodge at Kasenyi.

Pollet, like everyone who has traveled back of beyond with Thomas, has high praise for Thomas's good sportsmanship and indifference to discomfort. But what about other Americans Pollet has guided? Are they different in any ways from Europeans?

"In general," Pollet said the other day, "Americans are shyer than Europeans. They have absolutely no fear of wild animals or rough country or any of the things that American movies

Fayette Savings Bond Sales Hit $46,345 for Month

Fayette County sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds for October were $46,345, while the total for Ohio was just over $26 million dollars for a 10-month of $270 million.

The 10-month state total is approximately four and a half million dollars ahead of 1957.

Fayette County Chairman R. H. Olinger said that in addition to continuing goods sales of the H bond it is expected that E bond sales will rise as increased numbers of industrial workers return in their jobs and continue to buy bonds on the payroll savings plan.

Leading the state in percentage of quota achieved is Hocking County with Athens, Scioto, Jackson and Meigs next in line. Among the industrial counties, Lucas and Montgomery are exceeding their sales quota.

The gift will permit construction of an exhibition hall at the museum's Wade Park location in University Circle, plus completion of four buildings.

The gift carries on the interest shown by the late Leonard C. Hanna Jr., creator of the Hanna Fund, in the affairs of the museum.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

A few days ago I spent a very pleasant hour at the home of Mrs. Grace Cannon, State Rd., while interviewing her son, John U. Cannon. The latter lives on the former Tway farm on Route 38 a half mile south of Yatesville and is one of the veteran hybrid seed corn growers.

I was particularly interested in how John was progressing with his hybrid seed corn, recalling that he had his father were among the first 30 accredited hybrid seed corn growers in the state when the hybrid production was first launched some 30 years ago.

I had visited the Cannon farm and saw some of the first hybrid seed grown in the county by John C. Cannon, who died several years ago.

John U told me that this year he had only 14 acres for seed.

The corn is a new strain but a heavy producer, he said. He calls it Cannon's Special.

This year he had a field on the former William J. Selser farm, which produced 120 bushels per acre.

He told me that included in the field is the site of a house in which I lived for many years, and which was torn away a year or more ago. Even the old smokehouse and barn were razed, so that the old home site is in the middle of the corn field, wiped out forever.

John said that as one of the crop reporters who send reports every 30 days, in July he forecast 50 per cent of a corn crop and in October he had raised this to 70 per cent.

Part of 165 acres of corn this year ran as high as 120 bushels to the acre, and some dropped to 40 bushels, due to wet weather.

He is still using the large drying and storage building formerly used by his father and himself. This year he dried about 3,000 bushels of early picked corn in his seed corn.

John is devoting his time to other farm crops and not so much to raising hybrid seed. The Cannon holdings with recent purchase of the Lizzie Tway (formerly the Parker farm south of Cherry Hill) total more than 900 acres, most of it in Paint Township.

John told me that a number of fields of which he knew where corn had been grown for the second year in succession did not produce much more than a half yield.

He is a firm believer in proper rotation, and this year had a sizeable acreage in the soil bank.

CYPRESS TREES

I was asked recently how far north the bold cypress trees, so common in the swamps of the Southern states, extend northward.

I know of such a tree, probably 100 years old and possibly much older, which stands in a swamp on Route 50 in the western edge of Chillicothe.

There is a sizeable cypress tree within a few yards of the South side of Glendower Museum in Lebanon. It is the farthest north of any I have seen.

I have also seen one in a swamp at the southwestern edge of London which is as large as either one in Chillicothe or at Lebanon. It is the farthest north of any I have seen.

I have never seen any of these trees, most of which are evergreen, in Fayette County.

Most of the cypresses are readily recognized by their fine foliage, the enlargement at the base of the trunk, and the fact that invariably they grow in water or very wet ground.

Harry McCormick, whose home was a few miles south of New Holland badly wounded a chicken thief and allowed him and a companion to leave after providing them with material to dress the gunshot wound.

Wesley Gooley, 81, well known business man of New Holland died.

GREAT AMOUNT OF PLOWING

So far this fall the weather has been unusually favorable for plowing, and tens of thousands of acres have been turned over, preparatory to planting next spring's crops.

If weather continues good during the next 10 days or two weeks, a record amount of ground may be broken, and the farmers will be well along with their work for next year.

30 YEARS AGO

Thieves stole many hides from the Barchet Slaughter House and were arrested in Cincinnati.

Wade McClaskey, Jefferson Township, fired upon a chicken thief and wounded him, but he escaped.

Dr. C. C. Crumm and Dr. E. F. Todhunter opened a five-room emergency hospital in the Todhunter Building on Market St.

Mrs. Artie Potts, Octa, was fatally burned, her home was destroyed and her three small children barely escaped when a can of kerosene with which she was starting a fire exploded.

Four youths who attempted a holdup at the George Sollars store in Jeffersonville lost their nerve and fled.

Lewis W. Parker, Toledo, who had escaped from Veterans Hospital died of burns sustained when he built a fire along the railroad near Glendon and rolled into the fire while asleep.

OSES Finds Jobs for 98 In October

The Washington C. H. office of the Ohio State Employment Service placed people in 98 jobs during October, a recent compilation of figures shows.

The three largest groups of placements were in the fields of agriculture, forestry and fishing, wholesale and retail trade and domestics. Twenty-seven people found jobs in the first group, 23 in the second and 21 in the third.

Manufacturing placements were the next largest group, with nine persons being placed with that type of enterprise.

The number of men the office placed in October was more than twice the number of women. Of the 52 men who found jobs, 41 were less than 44 years old and the other 11 were between 45 and 64.

Eighteen of the 21 women placed were under 44 and the rest were in the older age bracket.

No one over the age of 65 was placed by the office.

The number brought the total of placements made by the office here to 988 during the first 10 months of 1958. It is a rise of 10.4 per cent over last year's figure up to the same time.

OF THE YEAR'S total, 556 of the placements were men and 221 were veterans.

More unskilled laborers were placed than any other group except in agriculture. There were 30 laborers placed as compared with 22 service workers, the next largest group.

The number of men the office placed in October was more than twice the number of women. Of the 52 men who found jobs, 41 were less than 44 years old and the other 11 were between 45 and 64.

Eighteen of the 21 women placed

were under 44 and the rest were in the older age bracket.

No one over the age of 65 was placed by the office.

Judge in Bowling Green Plans to Resign Post

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Judge Earl K. Soether, who has been on the Common Pleas bench here since 1939, has notified the Wood County Republican Executive Committee that he will resign next month.

Judge Soether, 75, is in the second year of a six-year term.

Gov. C. William O'Neill is expected to appoint a successor.

Pro Grid Coach Asks Fans To Tell Him What's Wrong

DETROIT (AP) — A nationwide television audience will get a chance to see the defending world champion Detroit Lions in action Thanksgiving Day, and Coach George Wilson is encouraging comment from the fans.

"If any of them see what's wrong with the Lions this year, I hope they'll let me in on it," said the Lions' head coach.

The Lions, 3-5 for the season, meet the Green Bay Packers Thursday in the traditional Thanksgiving Day clash at Briggs Stadium.

Game time is 12 noon, and Detroit is favored. The Packers, who have only one victory in nine games, battled the Lions to a 13-12 tie earlier this year in Green Bay.

nearly 10 months ago, is back home.

Last Thanksgiving, robust and spry, he was eagerly looking forward to his move to Los Angeles with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Now, he puts in painful hours each day trying to rebuild his muscles in the hope that someday he may be able just to walk again.

Campy admits that day may never come but he hasn't lost hope and the warm and friendly smile that won so many friends for him is still on his thinned-down face.

"I keep telling myself how lucky I've been," he said. "I just keep thanking God I'm alive and I had a house and a family to come back to. Look at poor Mel Ott. He was in an automobile crackup too. He's dead. I'm only paralyzed I said a little prayer for Mel and I sent him a wire but I guess he never got to read it."

Yes, Campy was home and he was happy. He no longer was burdened by the neck brace he had worn since last January when he underwent an operation on his broken neck. He is still paralyzed from the chest down, however, and he has to be lifted from his bed into the wheelchair. He has to be dressed and undressed. He is constantly attended by a male nurse. He needs an appliance on his hand to feed himself, to lift objects, to sign his name. He still has no movement in his fingers.

"Yes, I've got so many things to be thankful for," he said. "I'm thankful no member of my family was with me at the time of the accident. I'm thankful I've got all my sense. I'm thankful just to be home, surrounded by my family."

As Campy was talking, he kept caressing his 5-year-old daughter Princess, who was sitting on his lap, squealing delightedly while manipulating the battery-operated wheelchair for her daddy. Roy Jr., 10, and Tony, 8, two others of Campy's six children, were running from room to room, playing a game of tag. Roy's wife Ruthie was busily engaged in the kitchen helping her mother prepare for the Thanksgiving holiday. Roy's eyes glistened as he watched the activity.

"Look at the kids," he exclaimed. "They're not worried about me being in the wheelchair. 'Daddy's home.' That's all they care about. I have trouble keeping them out of the wheelchair. When I'm in bed, they're all in there with me. I've got no time to talk with them around."

As Campy spoke he kept flexing his wrists, flailing his withered arms across his body, and raising them over his head. He kept pivoting his shoulders in quarter turns.

"I got to keep doing that to prevent a tightness of the muscles," he explained. "I still have no feeling in my legs but I know my insides are all right and I feel strong."

"It's a new life for me. I'm starting all over again. You learn to put up with a lot of things you'd ordinarily gripe about.

Sometimes I wonder how long this might go on. But I get such thoughts out of my head quickly.

You got to keep thinking good thoughts. Otherwise you could go nutty."

Roy's voice is vibrant now as it was before the accident. Except for his arms, which are painfully thin, he looks robust enough.

He visits the Institute for Physical Rehabilitation three days a week and spends five hours a day lifting weights and exercising his muscles.

Roy intends to make his first visit since the accident to the liquor store he owns in Harlem.

He also does a taped-radio show once a week and he "writes" a column for a weekly newspaper.

"I may have to live with this all my life," he said. "But I got to make myself believe otherwise. I got to think it will all come back. Maybe I'm fooling myself but I got to keep fighting and praying. And I know someday, with God's help, I will walk again."

Traditional Thanksgiving Day Games To Bring Bowl Bids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College football goes into its last big weekend of the season Thursday with a number of traditional Thanksgiving Day games that could provide a bowl boost for Pitt, Cincinnati, Miami (Ohio), Tulsa and Virginia Military.

Alabama, Clemson, Air Force, Georgia Tech and Southern Methodist get their final shots at bowl bids Saturday.

Only the Rose (Iowa vs. California) and Orange (Oklahoma vs. Syracuse) are set among the five major bowls. The Sugar has Louisiana State in hand and the Cotton has Texas Christian lined up, but each needs another team. The Gator Bowl needs a pair.

The Blue Grass Bowl, a newcomer, also needs two teams, while the Tangerine Bowl needs an opponent for Buffalo, which accepted a berth Tuesday.

Pitt, a prospect for both the Blue Grass and the Gator, goes against Penn State Thursday in the regular-season windup for both. Each has a 5-3 record.

Cincinnati and Miami (Ohio) both are under bowl consideration. Cincinnati by the Blue Grass and Miami by the Tangerine. They play Thursday at Cincinnati.

In other games Thursday, it's the Texas A&M at Texas, VMI at Virginia Tech, Wichita at Tulsa, Colorado State U. at Denver, William and Mary at Richmond, Utah State at Utah, Cornell at Penn, Wake Forest at South Carolina and Colgate at Brown. The Texas-A&M game will be televised nationally.

Tulsa is on both the Tangerine and Blue Grass lists. VMI is along with Mississippi Southern, East Texas State and Florida State, the probable choice.

Saturday's big game is the Army-Navy brawl at Philadelphia. Notre Dame is at Southern Cal for their annual battle, and Oklahoma makes its final pre-Orange Bowl appearance in a game with state rival Oklahoma State.

Air Force plays Colorado, and the Falcons will announce their decision on the Cotton Bowl afterward. Alabama, a top choice by the Blue Grass committee, goes against unbeaten but bowl-banned Auburn. Georgia Tech shoots the works against Georgia. Clemson tries to nail the Sugar Bowl bid against Furman. Florida tries for the Blue Grass against Miami (Fla.), and SMU makes its pitch for an upset against TCU and a trip to either the Sugar or Gator Bowl.

Banks Believes His Best Era Is Just Ahead

BOSTON (AP) — Home run king Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs had plenty of bad news for opposing pitchers today after winning the National League's Most Valuable Player award for 1958.

"I've just come upon this knack of hitting home runs," said the young slugger, who crashed 47 homers to shatter his major league record for shortstops.

Banks, whose Homer output and 129 runs batted in topped both major leagues, was an overwhelming choice for MVP in the vote counting Tuesday by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

Named on every ballot, he polled 16 of the 24 first-place votes cast by writers in the eight National League cities and piled up 283 points, the highest total since Willie Mays won the MVP in 1954.

Mays, the only other player listed on every ballot, drew three first-place votes and 185 points for his tremendous efforts for the San Francisco Giants last season.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, the 1957 MVP, was third with 166 points, followed by Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh Pirates, with 143, and southpaw Warren Spahn, Braves, with 108.

Banks, 27, said he was surprised by his selection and called the honor "a hard one to get for there certainly are a lot of valuable players around besides me."

A veteran of five full seasons with the Cubs, he said he figures he has "a lot of years ahead of me."

"I think my peak as a player is yet to come," said the 6-foot, 180-pounder.

AP Guesspert Picks Army To Sink Navy

Air Force, Notre Dame Also Given Nod in Weekend Grid Games

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the weekend where you must decide between a drum stick or a dumb pick. Here's the season's final forecast of college football winners:

Army over Navy: Both clubs started the season with great prospects. The Cadets matured while the Middies were stymied by injuries. The season's experience benefits the Army most and gives the Cadets the edge. Anderson and Dawkins to shine. This one you can see for yourself.

"I got to keep doing that to prevent a tightness of the muscles," he explained. "I still have no feeling in my legs but I know my insides are all right and I feel strong."

"It's a new life for me. I'm starting all over again. You learn to put up with a lot of things you'd ordinarily gripe about. Sometimes I wonder how long this might go on. But I get such thoughts out of my head quickly. You got to keep thinking good thoughts. Otherwise you could go bad."

Roy's voice is vibrant now as it was before the accident. Except for his arms, which are painfully thin, he looks robust enough. He visits the Institute for Physical Rehabilitation three days a week and spends five hours a day lifting weights and exercising his muscles.

Roy intends to make his first visit since the accident to the liquor store he owns in Harlem. He also does a taped-radio show once a week and he "writes" a column for a weekly newspaper.

"I may have to live with this all my life," he said. "But I got to make myself believe otherwise. I got to think it will all come back. Maybe I'm fooling myself but I got to keep fighting and praying. And I know someday, with God's help, I will walk again."

Skipping over the others:

THURSDAY

Air Force over Colorado: A fancy victory for the Air Force undoubtedly means a bowl bid. But the Flyer brass will have an anxious Saturday afternoon despite Brock Storm's stellar play.

Notre Dame over Southern California: That balmy California weather is just what the doctor ordered for George Izo's pitching arm. Another Saturday game.

SKIPPING over the others:

THURSDAY

Brown over Colgate, Cincinnati over Miami (Ohio), Colorado State University over Denver, Penn over Cornell, Richmond over William and Mary, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Tulsa over Wichita, Utah over Utah State, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech.

SATURDAY

Arizona State over Marquette, Rice over Baylor, Florida over Miami, Georgia Tech over Georgia, Houston over Texas Tech, Texas Christian over Southern Methodist, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Oklahoma over Tennessee, George Washington over Vanderbilt, over Tennessee, Cornell, Clemson over Furman.

19. Farms For SalePLENTY OF OPPORTUNITY HERE!

235 acres of some of the best land to be found in Fayette County. This farm has modern home, large barn with grade-A dairy setup, complete set of farm buildings and tenant house. Buildings are all in first-class condition. Farm is well fenced and tiled and consists of good, black soil which lies mostly level. This farm also would make an ideal corn-hog or beef cattle setup. Here is one of those rare opportunities to buy a really superior farm; HOWEVER, it does not require a large amount of cash to handle it as owner has promised to sell on land contract AND he is willing to consider any reasonable offer. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Gifted Children School Hit by Red

MOSCOW (UPI) — A leading Soviet educator today condemned proposals to establish special schools for gifted children as uncommunist. Mikhail A. Lavrentev, two-time Stalin prizewinner, wrote in Pravda that special institutes for exceptional children, proposed by some educators for the new Soviet educational program, "would directly contradict the main principles of communism."

He complained that singling out children who are quick at understanding might result in missing many potentially promising scientists.

Well, It Worked

MILLROY, Ind. (UPI) — Gene Merrill started a fire to smoke out a swarm of bees nesting in the walls of his house. The resulting blaze did $1,200 damage to the building, but it sure did scatter those bees.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Navy Jet Seaplane Production Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has cut its jet seaplane program, and possibly because of its interest in nuclear-powered seaplanes.

The Navy had ordered 24 jet seaplanes—Seamasters—from the Martin Co. of Baltimore, Md. Martin has delivered six. Eight more will be completed. After that, the Navy announced, the program will end, 10 short of the order.

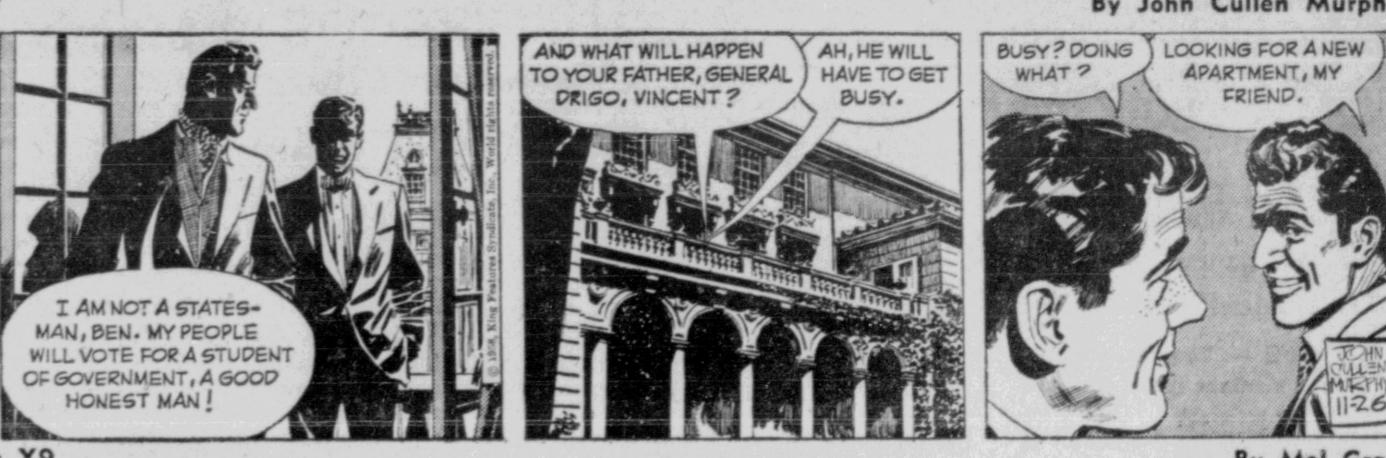

The first two Seamasters crashed in flight. The Navy, known to be working on a seaplane powered by nuclear reactors, gave no specific reason for ending the program.

The Martin Co. announced it would lay off 6,000 employees soon because of the cutback.

Short Ag Course Offered at OSU

Variety of Subjects For Student's Choice

COLUMBUS — The College of Agriculture of Ohio State University will offer an eight-week short course in agriculture beginning Monday, Jan. 5, and closing on Friday, Feb. 27, according to L. Rummell, dean of the College of Agriculture.

The course is open to high school graduates and young men with farm backgrounds who are 19 years of age or older. The university recommends that students have practical farm experience before enrolling in the course.

Enrollment will be limited to the first 50 eligible students who submit their applications within the next several weeks. Applications should be mailed as soon as possible.

THE SHORT course is organized to provide instruction in production, management and marketing. Such subjects as farm management, feeding farm animals, fertilizers and fertility, animal breeding, milk production and herd management, reproduction and milk secretion, dairy cattle and judging, livestock management, pasture improvement and forage crops, poultry management, farm shop, marketing farm products, soil and water conservation, rural leadership, farm electricity, farm pests and weed control and farm machinery will be offered.

The student will have an opportunity to select subjects which will be of greatest value to him on the home farm.

Students will be housed in the Stadium Dormitories. It will be possible for a student to drive to the campus on Sunday evening or Monday morning and return to his home farm late Friday afternoon.

The cost for room, board and tuition will be $25 for the eight weeks.

Additional information regarding courses, registration and instruction may be secured by writing to the Dean's Office, Room 100, Agricultural Administration Building, Ohio State University, Columbus 10, Ohio.

County's 'Guests' To Get Turkey For Thanksgiving

City and county prisoners, unlucky enough to be in jail on Thanksgiving Day, won't have to pass up their annual turkey dinner.

Along with the few children in the Children's Home who do not visit relatives and friends on the holiday, the prisoners will have the traditional gobble and all the trimmings on their bill of fare.

The restaurants which supply the food said Wednesday that the six county prisoners and three city prisoners will get the treat instead of the usual meal.

About seven of the 38 children in the home will also be treated to their fill of the large bird and ice cream and cake.

Della Traub, late of Madison Township, was held Wednesday morning. Because of the unusual number of heirs, the hearing was moved to the Common Pleas courtroom.

A number of heirs are yet to be found.

Thanksgiving Program Given By WHS Choirs

The nearly 900 students of Washington C. H. High School started their holiday weekend with a Thanksgiving program at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium.

The program, arranged by Grover Baber of the music department, opened with an organ prelude by Mrs. John P. Case.

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connely, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, who delivered the Thanksgiving sermon, told the students they should be thankful for their freedom to worship and for the many material things they have in a land of freedom and plenty.

Father Connely also gave the spoken call to worship and offered prayer.

The entire program was developed around the two choirs, one of 60 junior high school students and the other of 62 senior high school students, both under the direction of Baber.

FOLLOWING the choral call to worship by the senior choir, the students joined in singing the hymn, "Come All Ye Faithful People, Come."

After the junior choir sang the choral response, "My God I Thank Thee," the senior choir sang the anthem, "Almighty God, God of Our Fathers," and with Jetty Custer, the soprano soloist, "While the Earth Remaineth."

After the group sang "We Gather Together," Father Connely delivered the spoken benediction and the two choirs joined in singing the choral benediction.

Mrs. Case played the postlude on the pipe organ.

The senior choir and Father Connely were seated on the stage and the junior choir in seats reserved for it in the auditorium in front of the stage. Betsy Vollette, the choir accompanist, also was seated on the stage at the piano.

Margie Hurt and Jerry Crissinger were the student assist at directors.

Falsely Dated Hunting License Proves Expensive

Robert Slager, 31, of London, was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of purchasing a falsely dated hunting license.

Slager was arrested on Nov. 15 for hunting after legal hours and without a license, game protectors said. He then came to Fayette County and asked Phyllis Havens, clerk at Ramey's Grill, CCC Highway, to backdate the license to Nov. 14, the warden said.

The clerk was fined $15 and costs Tuesday.

Ellis Runions, Dublin, Va., forfeited $15 for failing to stop for a red light.

A number of heirs are yet to be found.

Tiptons Admit 22 Robberies In 4 Cities

Paul Tipton, 35, of 701 Willard St., and his 25-year-old nephew, Clark, of Dayton, have admitted 22 robberies in Dayton, Columbus, Cincinnati and Springfield, Dayton police said Wednesday.

The pair was arrested on Nov. 17 and readily admitted to police at that time that they robbed 11 establishments in Dayton.

The younger Tipton's right hand was amputated after he was shot by police while reaching for a gun in the glove compartment of a car he had rented.

No arrangement date has been set.

Paul Tipton was reported at that time to be on parole from an Indiana penitentiary. It has since been learned he had worked off his parole from an Indiana reformatory and was on parole from Mansfield Reformatory at that time.

Radio Station Stock Deal OKd

W. N. Nungesser, 508 Third St., part owner of Radio Station WCHQ, has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to acquire control of the station through stock purchase.

The action approves purchase of a 24.98 per cent interest from Ray Brandenburg, Sam B. Marting and L. Morse Weimer for $9,500.

The purchase will give Nungesser a 57.34 per cent interest in the station which he has been operating under a working agreement for more than a year.

III-Fated Ship Labeled as OK Early in Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Before the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank in stormy Lake Michigan Coast Guard inspectors reported the ship was "seaworthy and fit."

Thirty-three crew members were lost when the Bradley broke in half last week. Two of her crew were rescued.

A Coast Guard investigation board headed by Rear Adm. Joseph A. Kerrins Tuesday heard testimony from two Coast Guard officers who inspected the Bradley earlier this year.

Lt. Frank M. Sperry said about 1,000 rivets on ballast tanks, in the cargo hold, were missing or partly eroded. He said he ordered the rivets replaced, but the ship owners planned to have the tanks replated.

"I was satisfied with bolted repairs pending the replacement," Sperry said. The ship was seaworthy, he added.

Coast Guard officers dismissed as highly improbable that the missing rivets figured in the sinking. It was estimated that 100,000 rivets held the Bradley together.

Cmdr. Mark L. Hocking, officer in charge of the St. Ignace, Mich., inspection office, testified:

"As far as the boiler and engine departments were concerned the departments were concerned until next April."

Bradley was seaworthy and fit.

The 31-year-old limestone carrier was owned and operated by Bradley Transportation Lines of Rogers City, Mich. The company is an affiliate of U.S. Steel Corp.

The investigation will resume in Rogers City on Monday.

FARMER IN HOT WATER—Chalmer Lovdahl, a tenant farmer of near Monmouth, Ill., uses a thermometer to ascertain the temperature of water from a mysterious well which has produced hotter and hotter water since last August. The water now is at 110 degrees. It has been speculated that a volcano may be imminent, but experts doubt this. The water is the hottest being produced by nature in Illinois.

County's 'Guests' To Get Turkey For Thanksgiving

City and county prisoners, unlucky enough to be in jail on Thanksgiving Day, won't have to pass up their annual turkey dinner.

Along with the few children in the Children's Home who do not visit relatives and friends on the holiday, the prisoners will have the traditional gobble and all the trimmings on their bill of fare.

The restaurants which supply the food said Wednesday that the six county prisoners and three city prisoners will get the treat instead of the usual meal.

About seven of the 38 children in the home will also be treated to their fill of the large bird and ice cream and cake.

Della Traub, late of Madison Township, was held Wednesday morning. Because of the unusual number of heirs, the hearing was moved to the Common Pleas court.

A number of heirs are yet to be found.

It takes 9 to 12 months for country style ham to get its rich flavor in normal atmosphere.

FOLLOWING the choral call to worship by the senior choir, the students joined in singing the hymn, "Come All Ye Faithful People, Come."

After the junior choir sang the choral response, "My God I Thank Thee," the senior choir sang the anthem, "Almighty God, God of Our Fathers," and with Jetty Custer, the soprano soloist, "While the soprano soloist, "While the Earth Remaineth."

After the group sang "We Gather Together," Father Connally delivered the spoken benediction and the two choirs joined to sing the choral benediction.

Mrs. Case played the postlude on the pipe organ.

The senior choir and Father Connally were seated on the stage and the junior choir in seats reserved for it in the auditorium in front of the stage. Betsy Vollette, the choir accompanist, also was seated on the stage at the piano.

Margie Hurt and Jerry Crissinger were the student assistants.

Falsely Dated Hunting License Proves Expensive

Roger Slager, 31, of Londonderry, was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of purchasing a falsely dated hunting license.

Slager was arrested on Nov. 15 for hunting after legal hours and without a license, game protectors said. He then came to Fayette County and asked Phyllis Havens, clerk at Ramsey's Grill, CCC Highway, to backdate the license to Nov. 14, the warden's said.

The clerk was fined $15 and costs Tuesday.

Ellis Runions, Dublin, Va., forfeited $15 for failing to stop for a red light.

A number of heirs are yet to be found.

Cars Are Damaged In 2 Local Accidents

Jack Gardens, 17, of 917 Temple St., drove his car into the back of a car driven by Charles R. Stout, 23, of Route 1, Tuesday afternoon when Stout stopped to turn left into an alley from S. Fayette St., police said.

Gardens' car was damaged slightly.

In another accident, Vollie Downard, 66, of 647 Harrison St., backed from the curb on Market St. into a car driven by John C. Boyer, 31, of 119 N. Hinde St., police said.

Boyer's car was damaged slightly on the side.

There were no injuries in either accident.

Tiptons Admit 22 Robberies In 4 Cities

Paul Tipton, 35, of 701 Willard St., and his 23-year-old nephew, Clark, of Dayton, have admitted 22 robberies in Dayton, Columbus, Cincinnati and Springfield, Dayton police said Wednesday.

The pair was arrested on Nov. 17 and readily admitted to police at that time that they robbed 11 establishments in Dayton.

The younger Tipton's right hand was amputated after he was shot by police while reaching for a gun in the glove compartment of a car he had rented.

No arrangement date has been set.

Paul Tipton was reported at that time to be on parole from an Indiana penitentiary. It has since been learned he had worked off his parole from an Indiana reformatory and was on parole from Mansfield Reformatory at that time.

On June 5, 1944, the U. S. Fifth Army entered Rome, the first European capital to be liberated from Axis domination.

Radio Station Stock Deal OKD

W. N. Nungesser, 508 Third St., part owner of Radio Station WCHQ, has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to acquire control of the station through stock purchase.

The action approves purchase of a 24.98 per cent interest from Ray Brandenburg, Sam B. Marting and L. Morse Weimer for $9,500.

The purchase will give Nungesser a 57.34 per cent interest in the station which he has been operating under a working agreement for more than a year.

Coast Guard investigation

board headed by Rear Adm. Joseph A. Kerrins Tuesday heard testimony from two Coast Guard officers who inspected the Bradley earlier this year.

Lt. Frank M. Sperry said about

1,000 rivets on ballast tanks, inside the cargo hold, were missing or partly eroded. He said he ordered the rivets replaced, but the ship owners planned to have the tanks replated.

"I was satisfied with bolted repairs pending the replacement," Sperry said. The ship was seaworthy, he added.

Coast Guard officers dismissed as highly improbable that the missing rivets figured in the sinking.

It was estimated that 100,000 rivets held the Bradley together.

Cmdr. Mark L. Hocking, officer in charge of the St. Ignace, Mich., inspection office, testified:

"As far as the boiler and engine departments were concerned the departments were concerned the tanks replated.

Bradley was seaworthy and fit."

The 31-year-old limestone carrier was owned and operated by Bradley Transportation Lines of Rogers City, Mich. The company is an affiliate of U.S. Steel Corp.

The investigation will resume in Rogers City on Monday.

Wanted To Be on Time

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (AP) — Kerry J. Cannon, 22, arrested for speeding, told police he was in a hurry to go to his own wedding.

The judge fined him $50, when he learned that Cannon's wedding isn't until next April.

III-Fated Ship Labeled as OK Early in Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Before the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank in stormy Lake Michigan Coast Guard inspectors reported the ship was "seaworthy and fit."

Thirty-three crew members were lost when the Bradley broke in half last week. Two of her crew were rescued.
